

Bespoke School support for your teachers

PDST Language advisors are available to offer remote school support across all areas of language learning, both in English and Gaeilge. A Language advisor can offer tailored, bespoke support to meet the needs of teachers in your school. Applications for school support can be made by the school principal at <https://dms.pdst.ie/support/login>. If you have any queries regarding making an application, please email schoolsupport@pdst.ie

Communities of Practice for Language Teaching and Learning

Over the past few months, our school communities have responded creatively and innovatively to the challenges of maintaining language teaching and learning during the pandemic. Our education system works best as we share and learn from each other. PDST Language advisors will be facilitating a number of Language Learning Communities of Practice this term. This is an opportunity for teachers and school leaders to meet together online, to share challenges, successes and opportunities in language learning.

The following Language Learning Communities of Practice will be available during November 2020
